

Brook Covid Charter

In 2020 the world was forced to adapt to Coronavirus, with schools and support systems for young people being disrupted significantly. At Brook, we quickly adapted to ensure our nationally recognised education and professionals' trainings could be delivered virtually via a secure platform.

Whilst we continue to deliver our education for young people and training for professionals' digitally we have also resumed our face to face work in schools; all Brook's delivery is in accordance with government guidance and ensures that young people and professionals can receive the type of delivery they want. We will continue to update this document as best practice guidance is updated.

We have adjusted our face to face delivery and implemented extra precautions to ensure the safety of our staff, our clients and young people, these include:

- Wearing masks in all communal areas (including during sessions where mandated by the host organisation)
- Maintaining social distancing (2m) whenever possible
- Ensuring we wash our hands regularly and use anti-bacterial gels when washing facilities are not available.
- Bringing our own supplies such as marker pens to avoid unnecessary interaction with the facilities' equipment where possible.

For all organisations wishing to work with us, we request:

- A copy of your COVID-19 risk assessment which will be required two weeks in advance of the session.
- Suitable hand washing / sanitation facilities provided to be used before and after the session.
- Support in printing any required materials to minimise the risk of transmission of materials being brought into the venue

We thank you in advance for following our charter and look forward to working with you in the near future.
